Untame Your Pitch

"The best sales presenters in the world do not rely on technique. They are practiced in the art of connection. This involves the ability to connect with yourself, your clients & your pitch simultaneously."

The planet is undergoing extraordinary shifts in consciousness & many businesses are still using the sales & presentation approaches of the 90's. Our market based culture has become allergic to sales scripts & are responding more positively than ever before to real & honest sales interactions. Untame Your Pitch is about getting real, connected & ready to meet a new wave of consumers who are responding best to the real you!

Nathalie is the Founder of Yellow Lantern, Australia's national public speaking program for kids & is shortlisted as a finalist for this year's Telstra Business Women Awards. She brings a cocktail of skill to high-end authentic sales training with her vast experience in professional speaking, voice coaching and health & wellbeing.
